

VCU Pathology Grand Rounds

“Why practice doesn't always make perfect”

Marie Do, MD
Clinical Assistant Professor
Transfusion Medicine
Department of Pathology
Virginia Commonwealth University
School of Medicine

At the conclusion of this activity, the participant will be able to:

1. Recognize how to combat cognitive illusions and biases that can affect perceptions of competence and performance
2. Provide examples of effective retrieval practice and explain why these strategies are superior to simple review and rereading
3. Explain why spaced, interleaved, and varied practice are superior to massed practice
